The Perfumers

The creation of your story scent.

Khaltat	360 Campaign	UAE	3 Months

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

A UAE-wide contest campaign that invited perfume enthusiasts to become “perfumers” by mixing and naming their own custom scent using a guided mixing kit—supported by retail VM/installations, a landing page, and multiple campaign videos.

The Strategic Pivot

THE CHALLENGE

Build a campaign that doesn’t just advertise perfume—but gets people to create perfume. The goal was to make the highly technical, complex craft of perfume mixing accessible and engaging enough to trigger user-generated content (UGC), while maintaining momentum through contest cycles and evaluations.

THE INSIGHT

Gen Z and younger audiences deeply desire self-expression and social proof through making something original. While perfumery is often perceived as an exclusive, closed-off craft, positioning it as a "creator tool" bridges the gap between premium luxury and modern maker culture.

THE BIG IDEA

Blending as Storytelling

We invited customers to unleash their creativity and become the masterminds behind their own scent creation. Instead of passive consumption, participants blend, name, and share their signature fragrance, transforming into a vibrant maker community.

"Not just advertising perfume—getting people to create it."

The Execution ecosystem

The campaign rolled out as a 360-experience, blending physical material with retail integration and digital scale.
